

May I take your portrait?

Untitled Portraits from Survey #1 are visualizations of participants' responses to a survey comprised of questions of the type that regularly appear on questionnaires and feedback forms. The data collected from these surveys is compiled into a custom designed two dimensional barcode symbology. The resulting symbols graphically represent a participant's profile as it is projected from their responses. Like a silhouette each profile captures the basic outline of that person's portrait. And while these portraits are anonymous in title, close observation reveals that they are as distinct as fingerprints and perhaps more meaningful than a name. To participate in the project please complete Portrait Survey #1. All of the portraits will be posted on the portrait website cataloged by day and time of receipt as soon as they are drawn. www.RobertJohnTaylor.info/portraits
