SHELL VENTILATION + STRENGTH

One of the most obvious features is the shell. 12 large vent ports throughout the shell are submerged so no foul tips will make direct contact. No vent ports are covered by any padding to allow for maximum air flow. All the ridges in the shell increase the strength and durability of the helmet while at the same time make it look oh so stylish.

HAND PAINTED

The two-tone helmet designs are by far the most unique looking around. Every single one of the Two-Tone and Matte helmets are hand painted.

ADVANCED COVERAGE

Today's most popular batting helmets are offering less and less coverage to the back of the head (Brain Stem & Spinal Cord). This vulnerable area is commonly exposed when avoiding being struck by a wild pitch or when trying to beat out a throw stealing second. Under Armour® helmets are designed with a flared shell in the back to offer full coverage without restricting range of motion.

HIGH PERFORMANCE LINERS

Moisture wicking and fast drying liners in the batting helmets are both extremely comfortable and protective. The liners in the UABH-100 and UABH-200 helmets make these the best fitting helmets available. There are no pressure points, and just the right amount of support gives the helmets an amazingly light fit.
